 WOW: Twin Rose Lady Riders Chapter

Hello Roses & Friends!

I hope this newsletter finds you well!

It's getting to be that time of year again. The sun is setting earlier, the leaves are starting (just starting) to change and there is a nip in the air. Some of the Roses continue to ride in cold weather, others give their trusty steel steeds a final polish and tuck them away for the winter. I love the fall and winter, the holidays and the cold, but golly, when the snow falls I miss riding.

Now that our rides are completed for the year, it's already time to start thinking about where we want to go next year. I will send out the annual survey of what kind of rides you prefer and where you would like to go. Please answer based on what you would participate in. There seems to be a lot of interest for day rides, but not a lot of participation. This is your chapter and the board wants to make you happy! So if you are happy riding for a few hours and having lunch/ice cream, that is fine. Just let us know! Also, if you are out and about and see something or someplace that you think the chapter would enjoy riding to, please pass that along also.

The Board and Dawn Paws met to review the Ride for H.O.P.E. The main point of discussion was the date of the Ride. There are two dates we would like you to vote on prior to the end of November — May 22 or October 2. There are benefits to both dates. May is the beginning of the riding season, people are ready to get out. October is breast cancer awareness month, and the traditional time of year for our ride. We also discussed whether or not to have food at the ride. Since there is so much time and money spent to provide food for the registrants, the idea was raised that next year we should either have a food truck or just provide snacks and drinks. If you have any comments or suggestions about any aspect of the Ride for H.O.P.E., please contact a board member or Dawn Paws.

Our November meeting will be via Zoom (watch your email for the link), and we can discuss at that time whether you would like to meet in person in December.

Thank you Roses, for all you do!

Well you know...it's just been one of those riding seasons...

Crescent Hotel in Eureka Springs, AR

I had the opportunity to ride to Eureka Springs, Arkansas with two friends. The plan was to be there on day three and spend a few days riding the Ozarks. Everything was going well until our third day of travel. We stopped for a quick gas break and when I came back out to start my bike, it just made a whirring sound. Why would this surprise me? With the way my riding season has been going, I probably should have expected it, but I try to be optimistic.

I have three different types of roadside assistance—Harley Owners' Group, AMA and my insurance. So I made a few phone calls and had a tow truck on its way. Now—where to take it. I called the closest open Harley dealer to see if they might have a starter to fit my bike. To my amazement, they had one in stock. The parts department confirmed that it was in their hands and would be waiting for me.

The tow truck company called to let me know that I would not be able to ride in the truck due to covid restrictions. Offering to provide my vax card, double mask, ride in the back—none of this was acceptable. My next step was to figure out how to travel the 60 plus miles to Clarksville, Tennessee. While I was pleading with the tow truck company, a gentleman and his friend walked up offering to push start my bike. Wait..what? In my emotional state, I completely forgot that this is a thing! You have never seen this chubby old girl jump up and down so much as when that bike roared to life. You have also never seen this chubby old girl don rain gear so quickly. Next came the nerve-wracking ride to the dealer, praying that I didn't stall her out. The wonderful thing about Harley dealers is that they prioritize travelers. Four hours later I was back on the road.

The next day I met up with my travel companions in Eureka Springs. We spent two days riding the Ozarks and eating some great food! On day three, one of my companions and myself decided to ride the Talimena Scenic Byway in Oklahoma—the panoramic view at the end was amazing! We knew when planning the ride that we would only be two hours from Paris, Texas and, you know, we need to eat and neither of us had ever been to Texas...so... We pulled up to the restaurant and saw a pile of firewood. Ohhhh yeahhhh. After an amazing meal of brisket and pecan cobbler, I really felt like I wanted to slap all the BBQ places up north. I had never had such amazing food.

Our other companion had messaged us to let us know he was in Branson, Missouri for the night. It was around 4:30pm and Branson was 5.5 hours from where we were. Why not...we didn't have anything else to do. We made reservations and pointed our bikes in that direction. It was around 90 degrees in Texas. I had no idea that it would be 48 degrees when we got to Missouri. I didn't pack much cold weather riding gear. I mean...it's the south in September. Lesson learned.

Ingalls Wilder's house in Mansfield, Missouri. I grew up watching Little House on the Prairie and read all the books, so it was an amazing visit to her home.

Two days later, I arrived home.

3,709 miles and 11 states in 8 days.

My friends were going to finish out their second week of vacation riding the known routes down south. Having already done the dragon, Cherohala, etc. I decided to ride home.
